Land Advisors Organization Continues to Drive Corporate Expansion Strategy

September 21, 2009 (Phoenix, AZ) – The Land Advisors Organization today announced the opening of its newest regional office in Las Vegas, Nevada, further increasing the organization's presence to provide technology-driven, strategic brokerage expertise nationwide. As the largest land brokerage network of 17 offices and over 55 market specialists, the Land Advisors Organization is focused exclusively on the acquisition and disposition of land-related assets. The firm has brokered over $10 billion in land transactions since inception and currently manages over $5.2 billion in land assets, representing numerous large land owners, builders, developers and opportunity funds.

"In alignment with Land Advisors' ambitious objectives for continued strategic growth through today's economic down cycle, we have analyzed potential expansion opportunities and are excited to enter the Las Vegas market with such talented and respected agents," said Brian Rosener, President of the Land Advisors Organization.

Greg Vogel, Founder and CEO of the Land Advisors Organization noted, "Consolidation in the real estate industry has left institutional property owners and lenders looking for experienced, knowledgeable advisors when it comes to the evaluation and disposition of land-related assets—especially those that can deliver on a national basis. With the Land Advisors' existing nationwide platform and broad range of service offerings, we are in a unique position to provide unprecedented advisory expertise to the Las Vegas area."

Under the direction of Designated Broker, Anthony H. Lang and Las Vegas market expert, Rick Hildreth, the new office will focus on providing the most comprehensive and specialized land brokerage service to the Las Vegas metropolitan area. As Las Vegas continues to develop as a major metropolitan center—with a highly desired quality of life, it is well-positioned for the anticipated growth in the real estate market.

Highly experienced in land brokerage through various challenging economic environments, Anthony H. Lang and Rick Hildreth have provided deep market knowledge, transactional expertise, and an unrivaled commitment to the accomplishment of their client's goals and objectives. They will now be delivering these same skills, utilizing the Land Advisors Organization's advanced technology, proven methodologies and extensive network of buyers and sellers.

"The strength of the Land Advisors' brand, the level of professionalism that clients have grown to appreciate and know from coast to coast is one that I am pleased to be a part of and to bring to landowners and buyers in Nevada," said Hildreth.
